Go forth, under the open sky, and list
To Nature’s teachings, while from all around —
Earth and her waters, and the depth of air, —
Comes a still voice —

William Cullen Bryant

I mean to borrow one day from tomorrow,
And I’m gonna spend it on sunshine and things that I love. I’m gonna reach
Out and touch ev’ry star up above . . .
And I begin livin’ today.

Hal David
I was born upon thy bank, river,
My blood flows in thy stream,
And thou meanderst forever
At the bottom of my dream.

Henry David Thoreau
Exploring, discovering,
Experiencing, learning—
A challenge to conquer,
Building on a foundation
of accomplishments,
Reaching for goals,
Childhood fantasies
Becoming realities.
Traversing the avenues of life,
Taking wrong turns,
Feeling the way;
The child’s world expands
to include others,
Bringing a new perspective.
It is impossible to believe the emotional and spiritual intensity and pure, classic beauty that can be produced by a man.

Ernest Hemingway

One is certain of nothing but the truth of one's emotions.

E.M. Forster
There are moments in life when the heart is so full of emotion
That if by chance it be shaken, or into its depths like a pebble
Drops some careless word, it overflows, and its secret,
Spilt on the ground like water, can never be gathered together.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
Leave the house at six o'clock to be on time
Leave the wife and kids at home to make a dime
Grab your lunch pail, check for mail in your slot
You won't get your cheque if you don’t punch the clock.

Kurt Winter
Get up in the mornin',
get on the bus
Get up in the mornin',
like the rest of us
Places to go, important people to meet
Better not get up or you might lose your seat.

Kurt Winter
Take comfort where you see it
Whatever makes it right
Relax...
Observe and enjoy
Things that would normally pass you by.

Escape until you're free
If only for a little while
Run,
Feel the wind upon your face
Until the things you ran away from
Will catch you up again.
I kicked off my shoes, and felt the good earth under my feet; I loosened my tie, and felt what it feels like to breathe; I found the secret to life — took some time for living.
From too much love of living,
   From hope and fear set free,
We thank with brief thanksgiving
   Whatever gods may be
That no life lives forever;
That dead men rise up never;
That even the weariest river
Winds somewhere safe to sea.

Algernon Charles Swinburne
Have you ever thought about your soul—
can it be saved?
Or perhaps you think that when you're dead
you just stay in your grave.
Is God just a thought within your head or is He a part of you?

Iommi
As we near the door of our futures, we are reminded of our first steps, at first awkward, but becoming more confident as we grow mentally and physically. Now that we approach the unknown world we must lose the protection of home, school, and community and meet the challenges of life. Our preparation here at Euclid will determine in great measure what we will become. We have the knowledge and memories of Euclid to fortify our endeavors and strengthen our faith in ourselves.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Academic innovations owe their success and accomplishments to the guidance of the Board of Education. Board members hold regular meetings to discuss new proposals supporting the promotion of better education in Euclid. One sees that "Education costs, but it pays!"

Mrs. Diane Laikart

Mrs. Mary K. King, President

Dr. Spartoco DiBiasio, Supt.

Mr. Ted Stepien

Mr. Paul Totten
ADMINISTRATION

A group of dedicated humans keep Euclid going, by resolving problems, scheduling activities, balancing books, and keeping both students and teachers happy throughout the one hundred eighty-five days of the learning experience.

Walter Schwegler
Principal

Jerry Bergem
Associate Principal

Euclid's future Board of Education member.
I think I'm being followed.

Don't ask me. I just work here.
COUNSELORS AND DEANS

Counselors and deans work to perform their duties with a concern for the individual. They guide and promote students' interest in their studies, careers, and social activities.

Miss Modi: I wasn't cutting, I just forgot to go to class.
I know you're going to love this book.

ENGLISH

The new look in English shows courses in films, supernatural literature, advanced composition, world literature, and the standard survey and Shakespeare courses, which were designed to meet the needs of a world in change.
Woops! I think I sat on a tack!
MATH

Take 1850, multiply it by 257, then divide the product by 6, add 14, and square the answer. Human calculators work steadily at mathematical problems using theorems and formulas to arrive at a solution.

SCIENCE

Chemists, Biologists, and Environmentalists explain through formulas and theories, moles, and molecules, the earth. Physicists expanding with grams, liters, and the universe. Educators give complicated explanations on how it all fits together.
SOCIAL STUDIES

Historians convey facts, dates, and geographical features from prehistorical times to modern day. Social scientists give reasons and motives for the behavior of man.

Next, we will see some highlights from the hockey game.
What do you mean you're an antique dealer?
Clicking keys and steadily moving hands keep rhythm to a voice dictating in flowing consistency. Specialists in their field prepare the business leaders of the world, perfecting skills, and releasing a well-trained product.

Ground Control to Major Tom...
OCCUPATIONAL EDUCATION

Occupational education personalizes the classroom setting to give students firsthand experience at a life career. At the same time, the teacher guides, instructs, and encourages each student to new endeavors. Because of this, life becomes more challenging and more meaningful.

Come out, come out whoever you are.

Lance Martinson

Occupational Education/103
HOME ARTS

The main ingredients are cooking, sewing, and home management; this is where better homemakers and parents are made. The teachers teach the basic fundamentals of untying apron strings.

Good, but you sewed up the pockets again.

Brenda Barker

Bonnie Lako; Elaine Lokor; Claire Mack; Patricia Murrish; Margaret Nielson; Vinita O'Donnell
INDUSTRIAL ARTS

You don’t learn Industrial Arts by sitting back and watching someone else. It takes a good teacher who can relate his ideas to interested students. It also takes a sense of involvement and dedication related to the students through the instructor.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education Department launches a program of fitness and fun that encourages team cooperation, body development, and teaches the student basic rules and regulations needed to participate and enjoy each sport.

Ok, now, bark like a dog.
Do you really want to try Anne?

Me Tarzan, me must catch Jane.

ART

Teachers push the imagination, to let creativity run wild. Those students who are gifted one day will project an artist's spirit.

If I had more paper... I'd have more fence.
MUSIC
Music reveals a freedom of individual expression that is held to the thin boundaries of tone, volume, and rhythm. Music teachers imbue their students with an appreciation of the international language—music.

LIBRARY
The library, situated at the center of the school, acts as the center of education. Here students come to research a topic of individual importance. This year, a new dimension has been added—wet and dry carrels, where students may listen to recorded tapes and view closed-circuit televisions, or read independently in a dry carrel.
SECRETARIES

Euclid's secretaries with the help of a few office machines provide every student and teacher with the basic functional needs of the educational process.

NURSES

The nurse in the sterile world of the clinic administer first aid and tender words to students with ailments.
CUSTODIANS

Custodians fixing broken windows, broken pipes, mopping dirty floors and all the things that break and smash at Euclid. What a mess we'd have without them.

CAFETERIA

Feeding 3000 hungry mouths every day is a hard job. The ladies in Euclid's cafeteria always seem to feed these hungry mouths with a smile.

The underclassmen are the identity seekers. Searching to formulate and build a life pattern, they count off the endless days. One, and even two years past them, they begin to realize the shortness of time before entering the world on their own. New responsibilities loom ahead, but a bright future is shaping around them.

"Give me fullness of life like to the sea and the sun; give me fullness of physical life, mind equal and beyond their fullness; give me a greatness and perfection of soul higher than all things; give me my inexpressible desire . . . the world works only for today, as the world worked twelve thousand years ago."

Questioning minds explore man's scientific realities. Thoughtful discussions lead the way to new horizons of interest. Whether it be the origin of matter, Tunnel Effect, or the trajectory of aqueous solutions under pressure, experts from various fields of science come to challenge the mind. The more man begins to understand his existence, the more there is to question. It is through this inquiring process that our world of tomorrow will be created.

The Curious Savage

This year's fall play revolved around an institution in which the inmates ran around the edges of the carpet and cards went flying when it was time for exercises. As the characters ran around the stage, the story began. Ten billion dollars was hidden somewhere. Was it down Lilly Belle's dress or up the doctor's sleeve? Only the teddy bear knew for sure! The student actors and actresses, not only worked hard, but had fun as well. The outcome of the play — Great.

Spirited students gather every Tuesday to create slogans and paint signs urging the defeat of Panther opponents. Rolls of paper, a wide array of paints, and brushes cover the floor of the cafeteria. Wednesday morning their color splashed banners adorn the halls of the school. Supporting the teams, members encourage the school spirit.

At an early morning meeting in Dr. Bergem's office, future strategy is formed. Reporting to the Senior Council, they mobilize the group for action. Sponsoring a movie night, the powder puff football game, peanut sales, and a pizza night, they strive to raise funds for Senior Prom.

Loyal Juniors meet every Thursday to support their class. They boost their treasury by selling pretzels and jiving to a swinging 50's dance. Lead by chairwomen, members plan a unique and special Prom.
STUDENT ACTION

Involved students form a democratic school government. Representatives from all three grades meet in Student Council to discuss and hopefully solve school problems. Besides planning and sponsoring Homecoming and Winter Festival, members initiated a new Christmas decoration contest and gathered food for needy families. The Student Council attempts to achieve rapport between students and administration.

EXTRA!
EXTRA!

Last minute preparations are completed to include the latest sports scores, as the Survey goes to press. Under the guidance of Mr. Smith and the tri-editors, reporters, headliners, paster-uppers, and proofreaders, all contribute their time and talents. Covering a wide variety of interests, articles range from current editorials, to opinion polls, to the ever popular Snoopy column. Behind the exterior of the finished product are the hours of work and effort of many dedicated students.
15¢ Please

The Student Supply Store efficiently handles the between class rush. Eager workers aid students stocking up on anything from cough drops to slide rules. The work routine is occasionally interrupted by a “free lollipop” day. The store courteously performs a valued service.

"Another pineapple sale!"

"Now the cherry ones..."
A fast moving sport is characterized by the enthusiastic team members fulfilling personal and team goals. United and dedicated to the achievement of varsity status, they attempt to prove their worth through success. An often small, but energetic group of supporters help make the victories sweeter and the defeats easier to accept. Sometimes overshadowed by other sports, water polo is beginning to win its battle for recognition.

Two For the Price of One

This year's winter play was a double attraction. Two plays, a comedy and a drama, were presented together. The light, fun "Why I Am A Bachelor" started the evening of entertainment. This play provided a glimpse at the humorous side of married life.

"Dino," a serious production, showed the struggle of a teenage boy in readjusting to society after four years in a reformatory.

Highlights of the production were an opening night fire alarm and Friday's S.R.O. crowd.

"Double dip, please"

Energetic, although seemingly futile, attempts are made to teach aquatic abilities to the disenchanted. Words of encouragement—"you can do it"—are heard throughout this chlorine-saturated world. The roles of instructor, counselor, friend, and disciplinarian are combined into one neat package! Whether teaching the long-acquired skills of a well-executed dive, or merely the basic strokes, the swimleader is always available to assist whenever necessary.

“POINT YOUR TOES”

Long hours of tedious practice and effort bring about perfection. Graceful maneuvers bring alive the wonders of the aquatic abyss. Each week unites the group toward their common goal, learning and growing through each other. Frustration gives way to pride as the impossible evolves into a reality. Thoughts and plans begin for the seemingly distant show, which creeps closer and closer. Friendship, concern, disappointment, and dedication are all elements of Wai Napolo spirit.

STAFF 1974
The 1974 EUCLIDIAN was a struggle this year. It was put together by a small but devoted group of students. This year, we tried to make the EUCLIDIAN magnify student life of all forms. This year's book is a collection of ideas suggested by fellow students. This year's staff members will long remember the work parties that nobody came to, the other parties that everyone came to, the EUCLIDIAN VS. SURVEY football game that the EUCLIDIAN won 70-21, the picnic at Nelson's Ledges, the T-shirts that no one would wear, and the party at the AGORA.
